President's Column Bruce's Blurbs

I would like to send out a big THANK YOU to Tim Reich. He is the owner of Timothy M Reich, Attorney at Law. Last month, he gave a short talk on many topics. Topics ranged from marriage agreements, Wills, to Power of Attorneys, just to name a few. He also explained the steps that happen after a death, if a will or trust is not in place. If you have a need for some legal counsel, he is a member as well as one of our advertisers and his contact info is located on our website under sponsors.

Be sure to read the E-blast and check the calendar on our website. This will give you the latest and most accurate information as to what is going on at our meetings, trip updates and happy hour locations.

Telluride History

Turn of the Century

Telluride was founded in 1878 as the town of Columbia. However, as post office confusion grew between Columbia, Colorado & California the town agreed to change its name. Debate continues. Source of the name Telluride originated from the element associated with deposits of gold & silver or if it was from the farewell shout, "To-Hell-You-Ride" from families sending their young men to claim their fortune in budding mining town quickly developing a boisterous reputation.

Gold Rush & Bank Robberies

At the height of gold rush nearly 5,000 people lived in Telluride & number of millionaires (per capita) outnumbered those in NYC. This wealth did not go unnoticed. The notorious bank robber Butch Cassidy actually began his stick-up career here getting away with a cool $24,580!

Ghost Town

With all booms there tends to be inevitable bust & Telluride was no different. As mining dried up, families packed up & left in droves. In 1953, the last mine closed & it became a ghost town until the early-seventies.

Becoming World Class

The ski resort was purchased by Ron Allred & Jim Wells then transformed into the world class destination resort we see today. Development continued with the creation of the Gondola transportation system, the incorporation of the town of Mountain Village & expansion to new terrain. In 2004, Chuck Horning purchased the resort & has dedicated further resources to expansion including Black Iron Bowl (Lift 12). Gold Hill Chutes & Palmyra Peak (Lift 14), & Revelation Bowl (Lift 15).
