It's a wrap. The 2018-19 ski season is in the books. We finished out the year with our spring banquet. This year we had our celebration in Little Chute at Hollanders Pub and Grill. Our taste buds enjoyed broasted chicken, beef tips and all the fixings. Many members brought in non-perishable items that were donated to the food pantry. Thanks to all the members who participated with the donations and made someone else have a better day. Thanks for your generosity. After dinner we enjoyed many hours of guitar playing and singing with DUSTIN. This was the 2nd year for this entertainment. The dance floor was full all night. In between his songs we had a raffle for many gift baskets. There was never a dull moment all night. One of the winning members donated their baskets to the domestic abuse shelter. This was another great gesture – especially just before the Easter holiday. Thank you to Mark and his social committee for putting this banquet together and making it a fun night for all.

Thank you to Toby Paltzer, The Bulk Food Store and The 10th Frame for many donated items used in the gift baskets.

During the dinner we did have the induction of our newly elected officers for the 2019-20 ski season. They are:

- President – Bruce Kettner
- Vice President – Jacob Belke
- Secretary – Micca Belke
- Treasurer – Julie Buchner

Breckenridge Trip Report

By: Sam Fontaine

Our Breckenridge trip is complete. We had 3 great days of skiing with sunny days, with occasional snow flurries on Sunday, our last day. Unfortunately, we had 2 last minutes cancellations due to injuries or family health issues. So we arrived Thursday evening with 38 people. Checking in after hours, there was a bit of confusion as we figured out the condo building numbering system. We got that solved and everyone was in their units. We stayed at Pine Ridge, which could not have been more convenient. The bus to the lift was right on the street in front of the condos, and you could ski home on Four O'Clock run to the complex.

Friday morning at 8 am, we got our lift passes when the building office opened and we were all off and skiing. Breckenridge has 5 mountains, Peaks 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10. Even with all this, a few people opted to take the bus over to Keystone where our lift tickets were also good. The highest lift at Breckenridge goes up to 12,600 ft, and if that isn't enough, you can hike up another 398 ft. Snow conditions were super. Even with all that, there were very few other people skiing the mountains. The prevalence of rainbow flags and the banners at the base of Peak 9 proclaimed "BreckPride.com". Yep, it was "gay" week at Breckenridge.

Sunday night, we gathered for our farewell pizza party at the River-Mountain Lodge down the street. As usual, we had our Lunar Awards. Matt Sanger, a new member, came in a distant 2nd after he was not at the bus pick up at The Bar on Thursday. I gave him a call. "Matt, where are you?" "I'm at The Bar parking lot." "I don't see you, what Bar?" "The one on College Avenue." Oops, wrong Bar. He made it to the right one in about 10 minutes.

The winner by a landslide, was Bob Vonck, turned in by Jill Kriese. Bob put a bottle of water in the pocket of his ski jacket, along with some loose tabs of ibuprofen. At some point during the ski day, he bent over to adjust his boot buckles and popped the cap off the water bottle. The water then mixed with the ibuprofen tabs and resulted in a yellow liquid running down his pants. People who saw this wondered if perhaps he needed some Depends.

The flight home did have some unprecedented events. A couple of guys spent the bus ride to the airport finishing the liquid contents of their fridge. Then all got through security with 2 hours left before boarding. There are many refreshment opportunities at Denver airport, so they took advantage of that. When it came time to board the plane, they were denied boarding for "visible intoxication". Nobody on the plane knew why they were missing. When we got to Milwaukee, I was able to call them. They did get boarding passes for the next day's flight. Now they were making lemonade out of lemons by taking the train into Denver and going to the Sunday night Rockies/Dodgers game. A lesson on knowing when the vacation is over.

That wraps up the 2019 Sly Fox Ski Club ski season. Now time to start planning the 2020 season.
